Case Study

Gregza (aged 15) is a boxing king! This year he has been competing at a serious level in some top international matches. He is known as a hard lad and gets a lot of attention from girls because he has a six pack.

Saturday night is party time, and a lad from Year 11 is having a housie (house party). Everyone is there!

After a couple of drinks, Gregza starts to feel a bit rough but doesn't want to look like a light-weight so he decides to keep drinking.

By 9.30pm, Gregza is so drunk that he throws up in the kitchen sink, falls asleep in a corner and then worst of all starts to wet himself as he is too drunk to stand back up. He is woken by an angry woman who is shaking him and shouting at him. Through blurry vision he sees a group from his school laughing at the state of him. He has been sick down the side of his face and has a pair of very wet jeans!

- ★ What might be some of the consequences as a result of that night?
- ★ What could Gregza have done differently?
- ★ How might this affect the way that others treat him?
- ★ Was it worth it?
