Case Study

Tania and Philippa (both aged 14) love to party! They always look forward to the weekend when they can chill and have a laugh. Tania and Philippa both love fashion, and when they dress up people say that they could easily get served alcohol in a pub or a shop.

One Friday night when they are out at a house party, two older lads who they've seen around give them some alcohol that they've brought along. The lads are a good laugh and the drinks are free.

Philippa has too much to drink and ends up being sick on the lad she is chatting to; Tania is mortified that her friend is showing her up in front of the fit lads and tells her friend that she is embarrassing!

The girls fall out and Philippa gets kicked out of the house party. Tania stays with the two fit lads and Philippa starts to walk home.
